Preface

The fifteen piano pieces collected in this volume originated, for the most part, in improvisation. Their starting point was therefore not a fully worked-out written composition, but the act of playing at the piano. The resulting musical material was subsequently recorded or notated, revised, and gradually brought into a stable score. In some cases this process remained close to the original improvisation; in others, rhythm, form, texture, dynamics, and notation were more extensively reconsidered.

The scores presented here should thus be understood as fixed and edited versions of improvisational ideas rather than as works conceived from the outset in fully notated form. This origin remains audible in their often episodic structures, changes of character, and the importance of gesture, rhythm, and immediate musical development.

The collection includes character pieces, dances and rhythmically oriented works as well as more extended fantasy forms. It does not follow a single stylistic programme. Instead, the pieces reflect different ways in which material first developed through improvisation can be shaped into a performable and reproducible score.

For this volume, the individual works have been revised with particular attention to notation, readability, dynamics, articulation, pedalling, and practical performance. The musical substance of the pieces, however, remains closely connected to the improvisations from which they arose.

The musical score is written for piano in 9/8 time, with a tempo of 72 quarter notes per minute. It consists of six systems of two staves each (treble and bass clef). The key signature has one sharp (F#). The score begins with a piano (p) dynamic. Measures 1-5 show a complex texture with many beamed sixteenth notes. Measure 6 is marked with a '6' and a repeat sign. Measures 7-11 continue the intricate patterns. Measure 12 is marked with a '12' and a repeat sign. Measures 13-16 show a change in texture, with some measures marked p. Measure 17 is marked with a '17' and a repeat sign. Measures 18-20 show a more rhythmic, eighth-note pattern. Measure 21 is marked with a '21' and a repeat sign. Measures 22-24 conclude the piece with a final cadence. Various performance markings include p, l.H., and accents (>).

The image displays a page of musical notation, likely for a piano. It consists of five systems of staves, each with a treble and bass clef. The notation includes various note values, rests, and dynamic markings. The first system (measures 35-36) features a treble staff with a melody and a bass staff with a simple accompaniment. The second system (measures 37-38) shows a more complex texture with sixteenth-note patterns in the treble. The third system (measures 39-40) includes a forte (f) dynamic marking. The fourth system (measures 41-42) features a left-hand (l.H.) marking. The fifth system (measures 43-44) returns to a moderate (mf) dynamic. Brackets are used to group notes across measures, indicating phrasing or articulation. The page is numbered 10 at the bottom left.

Fantasie

Thomas Pitz

Andante, Tempo rubato

The musical score is written for piano in 12/8 time. It begins with a mezzo-piano (mp) dynamic. The first system (measures 1-4) features a treble staff with a melodic line and a bass staff with a sustained chordal accompaniment. The second system (measures 5-7) continues the melodic development in the treble and introduces a more active bass line. The third system (measures 8-10) shows a shift in the bass line with a steady eighth-note pattern. The fourth system (measures 11-13) features a more complex melodic line in the treble. The fifth system (measures 14) concludes the excerpt with a sustained bass line. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, slurs, and dynamic markings. Below the staves, there are editorial markings including 'Red.' and asterisks indicating specific performance or editing points.
